Council Discuss Sewage System

Coleman town council, at its meeting last week brought up the matter of a sewage system for the town. A special meeting is to be held June 2nd to discuss financing the cost of such a system and methods of levying charges to the residents of Coleman using the system. If installed the system will cost in the vicinity of $250,000.

A report presented by the committee in charge disclosed that a complete survey has now been made of the town for the erection of traffic signs. The metal signs will now be ordered for installation this summer.

The traffic by-law is also to be amended to conform with placing of the new signs.

Mayor Ostash Progressing Well

Friends in the Crows Nest Pass will be glad to learn that Mayor Jack Ostash is now making very favorable recovery in the University Hospital in Edmonton. Mrs. Marie Ostash is spending a one-week visit with her husband.

The family report that he is doing "real well" and is up in a wheel chair and is receiving physio-therapy. Mayor Ostash was poisoned with monoxide gas in his home in Coleman when three of his children perished in the unfortunate mishap. He had his right leg amputated above the knee at the Edmonton hospital as a result of having his leg bent under him when he tried to get out of his bed to phone for help and collapsed near the bed. Circulation was cut off for some hours which caused complications later, necessitating having to amputate the limb.

Party Held For Duguids

Mr. and Mrs. Don Duguid of Coleman were feted at a farewell party in the Elks hall, Blairmore, when over 100 of their friends gathered at a social evening.

An evening of dancing was enjoyed with supper being served at midnight during which time Mr. Duguid was called on and presented with an engraved pen desk set from the Saratoga Processing Plant crew. The Go Kart Club also presented him with a tie pin set and the Crows Nest Pass Chamber of Commerce presented him with a sterling silver glass set.

Mrs. Duguid was called on and presented with a bouquet of roses.

The couple expressed their sincere thanks for the recognition and expressed regret at leaving the Pass. While here they took a very active part in community matters.

Mr. Duguid, superintendent of Saratoga Processing Plant at Sentinel since it began about three years ago, has been transferred to Vancouver where he will promote sales of natural gas for the Westcoast Transmission.

Mrs. Duguid and three children will join him as soon as school recesses for the summer months.

It is better to give than to lend, and it costs about the same.

Former Coleman Resident Passes

Friends in Coleman will be sorry to learn that William Charles Allen, a former resident of Coleman, passed away in the General Hospital in Alberni, B.C., on Wednesday, April 29th at the age of 76 years.

Funeral services were held in All Saints' Anglican Church, Alberni, on Saturday, May 2, 1964, at 1:30 p.m., with the Rev. John Frith officiating. Cremation followed.

Mr. Allen was born in South Wales, going to Australia in 1908. After a three-year stay there, he moved to Coleman in 1911, where he was employed as a fire-boss at the International Mine until 1916, when he moved to Edmonton.

After a short stay in the capital city he moved to Drumheller, where he gained employment as a pit-boss at the Rose Deer coal mine. He retired from work in 1945 and moved to Alberni, B.C., where he lived until the time of his passing.

Surviving are his wife Elsie at his home in Cherry Creek, Alberni; three sons, Walter and Frank at Cherry Creek, and Jack in Edmonton; ten grandchildren; sisters, Mrs. Arthur E. Williamson of Victoria, Mrs. Tom Webb, Mrs. Lena Storey and Miss Eunice Allen, all of Vancouver; two brothers, Horace and Edgar of Coleman.

Former Old-timer Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. Elizabeth Lonsbury, one of Coleman's former old-timers, now residing in Edmonton with her son William and wife, celebrated her 92nd birthday on May 20th.

A family reunion party was held in her honor with relatives and friends present.

Out of town visitors were her daughter, Mrs. Alex Easton and Mr. and Mrs. C. Clarke and son Douglas of Coleman, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mabel McFarlane of Florida, U.S.A., and her niece, Mrs. Gladys Thompson and son Ian of Calgary, her nephews, Everett Price of Fort St. John, B.C., and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price of Vancouver, B.C.; Miss Edith Haysom of Lethbridge, and Mrs. J. McIntyre (nee Winnifred Dunlop) of Edmonton.

The Journal and her friends in Coleman wish her many happy returns of the day.

IT'S THE ORGAN, NOT THE TV SET which draws the family together for fun, music and song. Contrary to gloomy predictions of a decade ago that TV would deal a death blow to amateur music-making, the latter is on the increase. Sales of musical instruments and sheet music are soaring, and statistics indicate that one out of every six of us is an amateur musician. Leisure time seems to have taught people that participation in an activity tends to be much more satisfying than passive watching.

Blood Clinic Collects 175 Bottles

The Red Cross Blood Donors' Clinic held in the Elks hall in Blairmore, the evening of May 26 was very successful, as a total of 175 bottles of blood was collected with only 12 rejects being recorded. A quota of 200 bottles had been set for the district, but with the clinic being only a three-hour evening clinic, many donors working afternoon shifts, were unable to attend.

During the clinic two volunteer Red Cross workers were called upon by Mrs. Steve Penney, president of the Coleman branch of the Red Cross, and presented with Red Cross badges of service and a citation.

Receiving the pins were Mrs. Anna Fabro of Blairmore, and Mrs. Jean Dunford of Coleman.

Both ladies have been active workers and convenors of the Red Cross Blood Donors' Clinic from 1950 to 1964. Mrs. Fabro has also been secretary of the Blairmore Red Cross group since 1963, and Mrs. Dunford has been active in Red Cross fund drives and other activities for the same length of time.

Six other Crows Nest Pass persons were also recipients of 20-time donor scrolls, which were presented by Mrs. Fabro and Mrs. Dunford.

Receiving the scrolls were Mrs. Slapak and John Yanota, Blairmore, and Mrs. Phyllis Jones, Mildred Zak, Mrs. A. MacQuarrie and Louise McLeod of Coleman.

Party Held For Chorus Members

Forty members of the Crows Nest Pass Mixed Chorus gathered at the home of Cliff and Danny Mashford in Blairmore on Tuesday evening, May 26 to honor three members of the group.

Following a Chinese style supper Mrs. Eleanor Hogan was called upon and presented with a farewell gift. Mrs. Hogan will be leaving Blairmore at the end of June to join her husband John, who has been transferred to new duties with the Forestry in Edmonton.

Mrs. Marge Oness of Coleman, who has left for Calgary to reside, also received a gift.

Father Denis Fleming, conductor of the Chorus, was called on, and was also presented with a gift of appreciation for the fine work he has done with the group. Miss Tess Thornton, who is retiring from the group next season, was also presented with a gift for her contributions to the Chorus.

The group enjoyed an evening of singing to conclude the party.

Rebekah Members Visit Pincher Creek

A number of members of Victoria Rebekah Lodge No. 7, Crowview Lodge No. 66, Blairmore, and Bay of Hope No. 67 of Bellevue, attended the 55th anniversary of Alexander Rebekah Lodge No. 8 at Pincher Creek on Tuesday evening, May 26th.

An inspiring and enjoyable meeting was held followed by a banquet.

All great accomplishments are attained through co-operation.

Hockey Teams Enjoy Banquet

Coleman Little League hockey teams wound up the season last week-end, May 23, when over 50 pee wees and tiny mites were treated to hot dogs and pop in the Coleman Catholic hall. Following the feast the young people were treated to a matinee at the local theatre.

Howie Yanosik is speaker

In the evening close to 75 bantams, midgets and juveniles and their fathers enjoyed banquet supper prepared by the players' mothers in the Catholic hall.

Sid Hall, southern representative on the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association of Lethbridge, called on Howie Yanosik of the American League Hershey "Bears", who gave the lads an interesting talk on sportsmanship.

Presentation of awards were then made by Mr. Yanosik to Wayne Colwell of the pee wees, Mark Ondrus of the bantams, Rick Venier of the midgets and Garry Gentile of the juveniles.

Entertainment was then provided by the boys, which included accordion solos and group numbers.

Little Chief Changes Ownership

Rudy Szymanski has this month taken over the business of the Little Chief Service Station, which has been operated for many years by Jerry H. McGregor. Mr. McGregor is now in the employ of Coleman Collieries.

"Rudy" as he is better known to his many friends in the Pass, is married and lives in West Coleman. He is a member of the Coleman town council and prior to taking over the garage business was a contractor.

Former Coleman Mayor Visits The Pass

Mr. W.J. (Billie) Burns, accompanied by his daughter Dorothy and her husband Mr. C. A. Lee of Burnaby 1, B.C., visited old friends in the Pass last week. Mr. and Mrs. Lee left to visit the latters son and daughter-in-law and family Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Collier in Toronto, Ont.

Mr. Burns, a former Mayor of Coleman, from 1923 to 1930, will remain here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. Jenkins until the return of Mr. and Mrs. Lee when he will accompany them back to his home in Port Coquitlam, B.C. He called on the Journal this week and took out a subscription saying he liked to keep in touch with his old home town.

All men are created equal — and endowed by their Creator with an insatiable urge to become otherwise.

Pre-school Dental Clinic For Pass Area

Miss M. D. Carran, Dental Hygienist with the Chinook Health unit, will be conducting a Dental Clinic for the residents of the Crows Nest Pass area. Similar clinics have been held in Fort Macleod and at Pincher Creek.

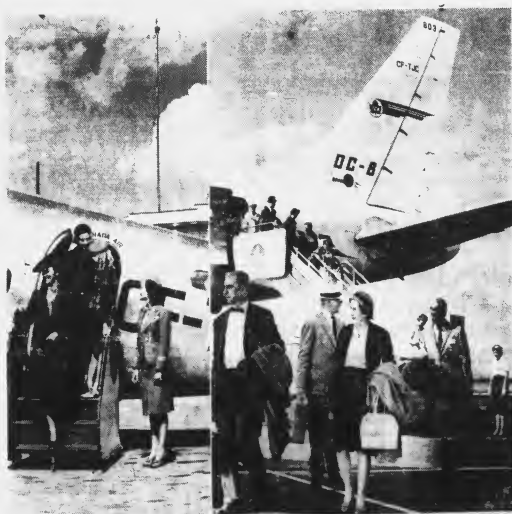

All pre-school children may have their teeth examined, cleaned and a topical application of Stannous Fluoride applied. The clinics will be held in the office of the Chinook Health unit in Blairmore from June 1st to June 19th, and residents who wish to avail themselves of this free public health service should make their appointments now by calling the office in Blairmore School children residing in the Pass area who missed their appointments, when the dental clinics were being held in the schools, may also book appointments.

Inasmuch as the prime concern of the dental examination in pre-school clinics, is to detect cavities, and thus notify the parents of the present dental conditions, there is an even greater threat to dental health, which often goes unnoticed.

This menace — malocclusion, or crooked teeth, is becoming an ever increasing problem. The high caries incidence, we hope, will decrease in time with the utilization of fluoridated water supplies and topical application of Stannous Fluoride to the teeth.

However, only the dentist can rectify malocclusion, and then, only if the child is taken to him in time. Neglect to seek immediate dental treatment in this field of leads to no cure at all, in which case, speech problems may result. More strain is placed on gums and teeth because the teeth do not meet and function properly, and irregular teeth cause embarrassment which may cause more serious problems of social adjustment.

Parents should make your appointments early.

HANDS OFF GAME

A warning and a plea against handling any form of wildlife found apparently abandoned, was issued to the public this week by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests.

Officials emphasize they will strictly enforce Section 7 of the Alberta Game Act that reads:

"Unless authorized by a licence or permit issued pursuant to this Act or The Fur Farms Act or regulations thereunder, no person shall

(a)—pick up, handle, possess or transport any big game, game bird or fur bearing animal, or in any way disturb the young thereof,

(b)—keep in captivity any big game, game bird or fur bearing animal.

Game officials said every spring season brings its rash of well intentioned scavengers who cart home from the woods nestling birds, deer fawns, moose calves, bear cubs and lynx kittens. All of the passionate cooing, fondling, nursing and training in the world is not going to mitigate the frightful offence thus committed against a terrorized wild creature, they said. Many of these forays into the animals' family affairs are conducted by people who are sincerely concerned about wildlife welfare.

Officers of the Fish and Wildlife Service are required to enforce Section 7 of the Game Act with the same impartiality that they enforce other statutes. They do not relish hauling into court misguided wildlife 'philanthropists', because public misunderstanding of nature's affairs weighs heavily in favor of the defendant. The truly conscientious officer is thereby represented as an unfeeling monster, deprived of common human sympathy. However, his duties include the enforcement of laws designed with scientific precision, in the total interest of these important natural resources.

Alberta citizens are constantly admonished to drive carefully on highways and spare their roadside neighbors; they should do no less for their wildlife friends — "Walk carefully in the woods and neither disturb nor molest its inhabitants."

The trust and curiosity that we imagine we see in the eyes of young wildlings is the innocence of children. Do not allow it to encourage heartless deprivation, wanton capture, and a grubby domestic destiny for creatures that are glorious only in freedom.

Leave young wild animals and birds in the woods where they belong, the wildlife officers say.

OF MANY THINGS
(By Ambrose Hills)A Summer Burning

I've been reading Hal Boyle's book, A Summer Burning, just published by Doubleday & Company. It has filled me with nostalgia for my own boyhood in a small Manitoba town. Boyle's novel has a farm locale, but that's fine by me because we town kids spent every possible hour on nearby farms and usually worked on a farm in Summer Holidays.

What I remember, however, is the small town itself and the things we did. There was a local grist mill. There was a water tower which even the most timid boy in town climbed. The daredevils stood with only one foot on the little pipe at its very top.

The skating rink was the social centre in Winter. Every boy in town, I think, had a season's ticket. Best sport of all was to get into the rink in Spring, after the season had closed, and steal some skating. The thrill of wondering about being caught at it was half the fun.

Adults don't seem to skate very much these days. We skated almost every night in Winter, and in the Spring we either "broke in" to the rink (the caretaker always left a window open for us), or trudged a mile or two to the nearby ponds. Finding rubber ice was big stuff.

There was, in my town as in all others, a Chinese restaurant. This was the gathering spot for the kids. How Barry Lee put up with us I don't know. He's an old man now, but he remembers every youngster from the town. A favorite sport is to go back home and call at Barry's. He ALWAYS remembers the name!

Saturday night was a big night. All the farmers came to town, the movies changed, and there was a dance in the Town Hall.

These are things you will remember when you read Boyle's book, A Summer Burning. You'll enjoy his recollections; but you'll enjoy even more the way his story prompts your own memory to bring up long-forgotten adventures.

I haven't quite finished the novel yet. I won't tell you the story, for that would spoil it. I'm reading it slowly, a chapter at a time, savoring it. I hope you get yourself a copy and read it too. If you come from a farm or a small town, it will be a genuine joy to you.

Junior Citizen Of The Year Program

On a warm summer day in 1962 Jack Pleckatilis of Jasper Place was enjoying a school outing with his friends at Cooking Lake, just east of Edmonton. After a fast and furious game of baseball, Jack and his school friends decided to cool off and take a dip in the lake. Jack had just learned to swim a month or so before, and was anything but sure of himself in the water. All of a sudden he heard a cry for help. Looking up he noticed that his school mate, Margaret Barron, was in trouble. She was out of her depth in the water.

Jack plunged into the water and pulled her to shore. Margaret had fallen into a hole that had been trenched out for boats to come in to dock. The warning signs had been blown down by a high wind. This heroic act won Jack a Junior Citizen of the Year Award.

There are many such deeds of merit—many contributions to community and family made by young Albertans.

For just such reasons as this, Calgary Power and the editors of Alberta's weekly newspapers felt that there was a great need to give recognition to worthy young Albertans who have performed acts of merit or courage. It is a way of counteracting the stories we read about the small minority of teenagers who have 'gone off the rails'. The Alberta Junior Citizen Awards program is designed to draw deserved attention to the thousands of fine responsible young people of our province who are such a large part of our Alberta heritage.

This year these Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards have been extended to include groups, as well as individuals. Special awards will be made to organized groups (Scouts, Guides, church groups, 4-H, etc.) as well as any groups of young people between 6 and 16 years who have performed some act of merit or courage together.

Through letters and phone calls to weekly newspaper editors by persons who know of worthy young people they wish to nominate, Calgary Power has been able to carry out this program for three consecutive years.

Provincial Teen-age Safe Driving Championships

GRANDE PRAIRIE — Alertness and ingenuity were displayed by 17-year-old John Looce of Nanton when he won the Provincial Teen-age Safe Driving Championship in Grande Prairie recently. The grade XII student amassed 706 of a possible 850 points to capture the Esso trophy.

He also earned the right to represent Alberta in the national final, scheduled for Toronto in mid-July, and a chance at the $1250 scholarship that goes to the Canadian champion.

Bill Boomer of Edmonton, placed second with 664 points, and Ron Zukiwsky, Warspite, drove into third position with 662 points.

Twenty-five contestants, all local winners from various parts of Alberta, competed in the provincial finals featuring written tests, skill tests and road tests. One teenage girl, Sharon Bussy of Airdrie, was among the competitors.

The Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways, was the guest speaker and he presented the winner with his trophy.

Mr. Taylor told the 125 banquet guests that great care and concentration would greatly reduce the number of deaths and tragic accidents on our streets and highways. He said that whenever an accident happens, somebody has broken a law. Then he challenged all Albertans to be determined to drive within the law — learn the laws — and obey them.

"If we all do our utmost to obey the laws and practice better driving habits, we will save many lives and avoid much suffering." Cash awards to the three top boys were presented by G.L. Miles, Provincial Sales Manager of Imperial Oil.

Inspiration

Don't be sad at the realization that time has indeed marched on—the years have slipped away.

The wisdom of living consists in making the most of what we are given. We cannot weave without threads, but it is our skill with the threads which determines whether we shall fashion a beautiful tapestry or labor without producing anything of use or beauty.

An artist, who has spent his days fashioning a thing of beauty rejoices in his labor when it is done. He does not fret that the days which have passed have made him older.

Only empty days, futile days, wasted days, are a tragedy.

Only the passing of days such as these are depressing.

Wasted threads, badly used threads, show up in the final design—but when we weave with skill, and fashion life into a pattern of harmony and goodness, then our existence becomes permeated with serenity and peace.

We can laugh though the days pass and the years go by—for than we have given only time in exchange for achievement.

Someone once told us to count our days that we may get a heart of wisdom!

This does not really mean to count the days. Anyone can do that. What it really means is to make the days count.

This is the supreme wisdom of living.

Time to Shake Out that Ol' Welcome Mat!

Yes, our good friends the tourists will soon be here once more, attracted by all they've heard about Western hospitality. Last year these nice people spent over $115,000,000 with us. So let's do all we can to give them value for their holiday money. First, let's get ready to entertain company. Take a look around your community and see what you can do to make it look like a place where Alberta's visitors will want to stay. Paint up—clean up—spruce up. Make sure local directional signs pointing to places of interest are in good repair and easy to read. Then, when we're sure our Province is looking its best, let's see what we ourselves can do for our guests. Let's be courteous, helpful and friendly.

Be Courteous

Give a smile with your service. Courtesy costs nothing, but its price is above rubies. Let our visitors remember Alberta as the Province with the good manners.

Be Helpful

Do all you can to help strangers find their way around. Give them as much useful information as you can. Help them to know and like your Province.

Be Friendly

It's nice to get acquainted. Talk to tourists in campgrounds and recreational areas, tell them about your community's activities and attractions. Let them know you're pleased to see them, and encourage them to prolong their stay.

The incomparable Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants will be seen in action when his club meets the Philadelphia Phillies at Connie Mack Stadium on CBC-TV's Baseball Game of the Week, Saturday, June 6 at 1 p.m. CDT. At the present time both these clubs are top contenders in the race for the National League pennant, and a win for either team would boost their chances towards that goal. Dizzy Dean and Pee Wee Reese will, of course, be on hand to provide the colorful commentary that is synonymous with these two former baseball greats.

Later the same day, sports fans will be treated to the third and final leg of the U. S. Triple Crown of racing, when the Belmont Stakes is seen at 3:30 p.m. CDT. The race, which is run over a one and a half mile distance, will take place at the Aqueduct race track in Long Island, New York.

This is the 96th running of this race—the oldest classic in the United States. The purse is $125,000 added. If the Canadian-bred Northern Dancer, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, is successful in this race, he will join the elite circle of Triple Crown winners. It would be the first time since 1940 that one horse has won all three races, when Citation performed the feat. Jack Drees calls the race, with Chris Schenkel handling the interviews and color commentary.

A wealthy and powerful Philadelphia lawyer risks his hard-earned career for a friend, Saturday at 9 p.m. CDT, when Great Movies presents "The Young Philadelphians". "The Young Philadelphians" also stars Canadian-born Alexis Smith and Barbara Rush.

There's a half hour film visit with famed Canadian and U. S. horse trainer Frank Merrill, on 20/20, Sunday, June 7 at 3:30 p.m. CDT. One of the top three leaders in public stable training in North America for the past 10 years, Mr. Merrill is noted for his ability to train and successfully race bad-legged horses. He discusses how he treats the horses, and is seen training them in the morning and racing them in the afternoon.

On Monday, June 8 at 8 p.m. CDT, Intertel presents "The New Italians". Filmed in the southern village of Ferrandina, Italy, where one out of every five residents leaves to go north, this program pays special attention to changes occurring in Italy and the nation's efforts to attract industry to the rural and labor-surplus regions of the south.

A young farmer Cesare is the central figure in the "New Italian". The success of his friends who have left Ferrandina prompts him to go north also, to the industrial centre of Turin. There he successfully applies for a job at the Fiat Motor Company, and begins a new way of life.

The program also traces the discovery of Methane gas in Ferrandina; the government's decision to pipe it elsewhere; the people's determined efforts to keep the gas, and the ultimate decision to keep two-thirds of the gas in the village to power any industry that may locate in the area.

Viewers are in for an hour of laughter when Playdate presents "The Red Skelton Hour" on Monday, June 9 at 9 p.m. CDT. On this occasion Red's special guests are actor Vincent Price and teen-age idol, singer Bobby Rydell. In the main comedy sketch, set in Dickens' England, Skelton portrays Forsyth, an apprentice candle-maker, who enrolls in a school for thieves. In "The Silent Spot" Skelton portrays a sailor shipwrecked on a desert island.

Highlight from some of the smaller works of such great composers as Mozart, Schumann, Stravinsky, Brahms and Haydn, will be presented on CBC-TV's Festival, on Wednesday, June 10 at 9:30 p.m. CDT. Among the performers featured on this program entitled "A Festival of Miniatures", will be the Juillard String Quartet, former Winnipeg soprano Mary Morrison, pianist Sheila Henig and flutists Nicholas Fiore and Robert Aiken.

N. E. S. News

Q—What should I do if I give up my job and am not going back to insurable employment?

A—Bring or send your insurance book to the nearest local office of the Commission for safe-keeping, and ask for a receipt. Make a record of your insurance number, and keep it so that when you return to insurable employment, your contributions can be continued under your original number. Do not get another number; if you do, you may lose credit for contributions you have already paid.

Q—If I was insured in the United States under their unemployment compensation laws before coming to Canada, can I obtain any benefit in Canada?

A—Consult your local office to see whether you can claim benefit under the law of the state where you were insured. Arrangements have been made between Canada and most of the States for paying benefit to a person who proves that he is unemployed in Canada.

Q—What happens if I have been insured in Canada and later go to the United States to work and become unemployed there?

A—Apply at a local office of the State Employment Service in the United States. If it is a local office in a State which has an agreement with Canada you may apply there for benefit based on contributions which you made in Canada. But if you live in a border town or city you should make your claim in person at the nearest Canadian office of the National Employment Service. If you are only visiting the U.S.A., the U.S. immigration laws don't allow you to accept work there. Therefore, you are not considered to be available for work and cannot draw benefit during your stay.

Q—Is the Employment Service available to all workers?

A—Yes. It makes no difference whether you are employed in insurable or non-insurable employment.
